

Boston Legal Themes and Allusions in Comparison with Star Trek For Parallel Universe: Trek in the Courtroom for Boston-Legal.org Season Four, Episode 11 (04x11) Mad About You. Airdate: Jan 15, 2008 By Debb from Montreal

Disguisingly yours: It took me awhile to find the primer, or the key, that instigates this report. (I blame the writers' strike.) However, once I found it, the connection between this episode and Star Trek, it hit me like a tonne of gold pressed latinum. It all begins with the barber.

Look closely at the stylist reflected in the mirror behind Denny. I'm pretty sure I know that hairstyle.

It's the hairstyle sported by Vulcans and their "cousins" the Romulans. At left, Lt. Commander Data checks himself out in the mirror to inspect his Romulan disguise, courtesy of Mot the Barber. Coincidentally, the screencap is from TNG's "Unification Part 1" the episode which sees Sarek, Spock's father, for one last mission before he succumbs to Bendii Syndrome, a neurological illness affecting a minority of elderly Vulcans. (Mad cow!)

Mr. Mot the barber. A Bolian played by Ken Thorley,

I thought that since this pictorial report started with a barber, that it would be appropriate to end with a barber, Enterprise's resident Bolian, Mr. Mot.
